

Brooklynn's Story: Accident Insurance Believer

As a mother of two young children and an elementary school teacher, Brooklynn Brown doesn't slow down. And she likes it that way. When it comes time for fun, she and her family are on the move with camping, horseback riding along the river, and four-wheeler outings. As an accident insurance believer, Brooklynn wants to share her true-life story with others:

Can you tell us about your experience with American Fidelity's Accident Only Insurance plan?

"I never thought I would use something like the accident policy, even though having two boys under the age of five is accident prone. But it has been very helpful to our family. I would be financially stressed with all of the hospital expenses we've dealt with in the last year."

What types of events did you use the policy for?

"My husband Clay broke his toe, and we used it for that. For the boys, we've made multiple trips to the ER, one had to have a CAT scan, and those are very expensive."

What has the policy meant for your family?

"I'm very grateful for American Fidelity and what they offer, because the policy has helped our family tremendously. I don't feel financially burdened. I just turn in my claim, and I get reimbursed. I don't feel like I'm strapped down to paying for things that I may not be able to afford at the time."

What do you tell people considering a policy?

"Someone with kids... it's definitely a must! It's a great thing, and it's definitely paid for itself. Being reimbursed over $1,500⁺⁺ for all the accidents we've had with the boys, and even ourselves, it's super easy."
